

Storytelling at the Intersections: Immigrant and Trans Solidarity through Media

Luce Lincoln, Video Artist & Media Activist

Wednesday, March 8 at 12:00 P.M.
in the Andrew L. Bouwhuis
Library Learning Center

Free & Open to the Public

Sponsored by:

- Borders and Migrations Initiative
- The Office of Diversity and Inclusion
- The English Department
- The Creative Writing Program
- The All-College Honors Program
- ArtsCanisius

Canisius welcomes media artist, educator and activist Luce Capco Lincoln who produces films and videos that empower immigrant and queer communities. They will share video work and pedagogical strategies for collaborative mediamaking. This talk is geared towards students, artists, storytellers, educators, and organizers interested in working across boundaries. Luce's art practice explores ideas of queer and trans justice, non-binary embodiment, Philipinx history and identity, and intersectional solidarity. Luce holds a BA in Film and Video from Antioch College and an MFA in Film and Media Arts from Temple University.

Luce Lincoln
(he, they, siya)

With any questions, contact Dr. Gregorek at gregorej@canisius.edu