Conversations On Jesuit Higher Education (Fall 2019, No. 56)
October 31, 2019 (OM 219)

A. Stephanie Russell, “Cura Apostolica Revisited,” pp. 2 - 6.

- 1. After reading Russell’s article, how do you believe that cura apostolica appears at Canisius College?
- 2. How does Canisius College promote reconciliation among its constituencies?
- 3. What structures at Canisius College promote reconciliation and cura apostolica?
- 4. How might we at Canisius College help to develop a sense of cura apostolica beyond the College?

B. Paul Lakeland, “Teaching the Mission by Institutional Example,” pp. 7 – 8.

- 1. How well do you think that Canisius College is doing in forming moral citizens for the world? What, if anything, should change in their education?
- 2. How have we shaped Canisius College to reflect the world that we seek?

C. Patrick Howell, S.J. “Spiritual Foundations of Jesuit Higher Education,” pp. 11 – 12.

- 1. How would you suggest that Canisius College engage more fully in dialogue with other faith traditions?
- 2. Should Canisius College do more to seek justice and reform within the Church? If so, how?
- 3. What might be some false assumptions/biases that we at Canisius College should try to overcome?
- 4. What would be some of the choices that Generation Z needs to make to develop a better world?
- 5. How do you see yourself as promoting the Catholic, Jesuit mission of Canisius College?
